EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the beginning of the specification, insert a first sentence for cross-reference as: "This application is a continuation of PCT/JP99/05547 with a filing date of Oct. 7, 1999, which claims the priority from Japan Applications 10/288967, filed Oct. 12, 1998; and 11/220656, filed Aug. 4, 1999."

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

It is noted that newly amended claim 1 now recites inter alia "a thermoplastic resin comprising 100 weight parts of a non-hydrophilic polyolefin-based resin and 22 to 67 weight parts of a hydrophilic alkylene oxide-based resin" (with express support found in Table 1). Upon reconsideration, the Examiner notes that Applicants' argument "JP '578 ... disclose a maximum of 10 parts by weight of their polyhydric alcohol derivative, per 100 parts by weight of their polyolefin. JP '578 teaches against using a greater concentration of polyhydric alcohol derivative, since the reference discloses that greater than 10 parts by weight of their polyhydric alcohol derivative causes undesirable fuming and bleeding. See the partial English translation at the paragraph bridging pages 3 and 4." (Remarks, page 9, bottom paragraph) is persuasive. In addition, the comparative experimental results in newly submitted Declaration by Iwasa also shows that Sample A, which contains 11 weight parts of hydrophilic resin (made according to the teachings of JP '578), shows significant poor ink drying property and inferior uniformity in density than Applicants' example results in Table 1. As such, the newly amended independent claim 1 is neither anticipated by, nor obvious over the teachings of JP '578 and/or cited secondary references.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
